Let's the obstacle become the way

Knowledge is power! But it is what you do with knowledge that makes the difference. Your capability to elaborate, contextualize and interact coherently. Communication is the key, codes are at the base of everything: finance, biology, engineering... simple not easy, because codes can be misunderstood, cracked, manipulated, badly replicated (that's why we age). With an interdisciplinary approach I have mainly focused on biohacking, media, geopolitics, finance and cybersecurity. As president of "Institute for Advance Studies and Cooperation" I constantly work to maximize results and implement relations. I believe every problem it also represents an opportunity, and so is well express in the words of stoic emperor Marcus Aurelius "let's the obstacle become the way".

Sir. G.C. H. Professor Andreoli, is the president of the Institute for Advance Studies and Cooperation the president of the Civic Parliament of the Humanity and head of international finance at First Aid Foundation where his work has been focusing on implementing finance for nonprofit actions. He is fellow of the American Society of Diplomacy and Political Science, academician of social sciences IASS, Florida USA, member of the “Real Sociedad de Armigeros de Espana”, researcher and honorary professor at the Catholic University of New Spain, Miami, USA. He has been collaborating with many governments and agencies, public and private institutions all over the world.

EVOLUTIONARY BIOHACKING

With the event of Covid-19 the immunity defense and the psychological strength has become under attack. People with better nutrition and life, knowledge and focus have been better off. Evolutionary Biohacking is a holistic and powerful way to manage your body, “spirit” and mind, an interesting approach to life, to higher performance, wellbeing and happiness and consciousness expansion, that can give you up to 200% more memory and productivity, 400% more creativity.

Prof. Andreoli has started almost forty years ago to investigate the science of performing medicine, testing different solution, and possibility for mental and physical rejuvenation/regeneration. In 2020 he delivered the MindSetBioHacking world Manifesto and since then he has been working on a new evolution in this fascinating field. “EvolutionaryBiohacking” it is a new discipline so innovative and disrupting that a new concept of wellbeing and integrated medicine, diet and performance had to be coined. The Evolutionary Biohacking project was born and presented at the Future Innovation summit in Dubai receiving an award. An interdisciplinary constructive journey has begun that has proven to increase the wellbeing and the performance of individuals in positive and incredible ways. This coupled with neurogenesis and focus enhancement (key to the “flow”) and expanded consciousness. What was once privilege of few, is now accessible to all the brave and driven thanks to the incredible Evolutionary Biohacking team and centers.

an inSpiring network

Studying interactions, networks, complex adaptive systems, systemic biology and molecular systems in general, you soon realize that what surrounds you compenetrates you. Your enemy define you, so do your friends. The predator and prey relationship consists of the interactions between two beings and their consequent effects on each other. In my book "Extraordinary encounters" I am not only talking about the fantastic people that I had the fortune to meet and work with, but I try to explain about the predisposition one should have to keep building strong relationships and a wide inspiring network, like the one I have being bless with. Predisposition is the key, knowledge is power.

World Changers summit

Bringing together so many wonderful mind is such an historical spiritual inspiring place as the Vatican is, it is a dream come true. This July 5th and 6th, the "World Changers Summit 2023" will be held between the Pontifical Academy of Sciences, in the Vatican City and the historic residence of Palazzo Brancaccio in Rome. Entrepreneurs, researchers and international leaders, from the fields of blockchain, cybersecurity, biohacking & wellbeing, artificial intelligence & metaverse, finance, & green economy, will meet and discuss possible scenarios, new discoveries and technologies for the creation of a better, healthier and sustainable world. This synergy of high-level information and interdisciplinary networking experience will generate a new consciousness and understandings of our existence & possibilities. I wish to thank all the people and the institutions that are supporting IASC in this fantastic project. Please contact us at info@iascoop.com

FINANCE AND HUMANITARIAN WORK

Collaborating with many financial institutions has given Sir Andreoli a broad horizon and a deep understanding of what is possible and the right procedures to address the different markets and opportunity.

FinTech, cryptocurrency and the block chain have and are changing the game. His main attention remains in the social and no-profit sector helping to develop humanitarian projects.

WRITINGS

“Sometimes, although you may do not want to, life forces you to stop, to reflect and contemplate upon your actions. Take it as an opportunity, you may become a writer...”

Writing it has always been a passion, a difficult one for a dyslexic boy affected with attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD). But Sir Andreoli propensity made him to see it as an opportunity to learn about the mind and the use (control) of it. Living a life of action sometimes he was confronted with illnesses and traumas that forced him to stop for long periods of times. He started studying with one of the best and renown writing teacher in the world: Robert MC Kee. Ever since he has been creating many film and tv scripts, presentations, humanitarian projects and articles for magazines focusing on technology and human right's and in the later year's he wrote several books.
